T. A. Pertseva, T. V. Kireeva, A. V. Cherkasova

Summary. The main goal of treating patients with asthma is to achieve and maintain control of the disease. Today, asthma is controlled entirely only in 5% of patients. The choice of combined drugs (Seretide) for the basic treatment is preferred because it allows to achieve disease control quickly. The drug Seretide is safe to use because it causes no systemic or cardiotoxic side effects. However, the technique of inhalationit should be monitored. If any mistakes detected, additional patient training is to be performed. Combined therapy with Seretide Multidisc is highly appreciated by physicians and patients.
