

WHAT THE SCIENCE KNOWS ABOUT HEALTH AND RELIGION

V. I. Ignatieva

Summary

The article «What knows the science of health and religion» is devoted to the opening in the territory of the State Institution SI «National Institute of phthisiology and pulmonology named after F. G. Yanovskii NAMS of Ukraine» of the new church, consecrated to the Holy Trinity.

The article deals with ethics, defined concepts of health and illness in terms of science and religion. It is emphasized that the basis of all complex communication that makes the functioning of the human body as an open self-regulating system, is the limbic system and reticular formation that perform basic integrative function in humans. We present scientific data on the impact of human psychological condition of the course and the emergence of psychosomatic illnesses. It is emphasized that modern medicine is increasingly follows a holistic approach – coming to realize the need to treat not only the body or mind, and all human in general.

According to the literature demonstrated that educating people from the birth in the spirit of Orthodox Christianity is the basis of physical and mental health care, maintaining the integrity and longevity.
