

EARLY PARENTERAL FEEDING IN THE TREATMENT OF ACUTE ISCHEMIC STROKE

O.A. Galushko

Summary. 46 patients were examined for the reason studies of the influence of the early parenteral feeding in acute ischemic stroke. It is installed that use the preparation Aminol beside patients with acute ischemic stroke promotes the more light current of the disease, stabilizations of laboratory-biochemical factors and warning the development catabolic reactions. The preparation used in average dose (7–8 ml/kg), safe and is well carried patients.

Key words: acute ischemic stroke, intensive therapy, aminoacid mixture, Aminolum.