

MODERN TENDENCY OF CORRECTION OF INCREASED INTRACRANIAL PRESSURE AT THE PATIENTS WITH ACUTE CEREBRAL INSUFFICIENT

V.I. Cherniy, A.N. Kolesnikov, G.A. Gorodnik, T.A. Mustafin

Summary. The modern approaches to the therapy of increased intracranial pressure at the patients with acute cerebral insufficient are described in the article. The effective method of correction of increased intracranial pressure by joint usage of endothelioprotector and flebotonic L-lyzini aescinas and solutions of polyatomic alcohols — Rheosorbilactum. Efficiency of the method is evaluated at the patients of Doneck regional clinical territorial medical association. Infusion therapy is of great importance to treat trophic disturbances. Rheosorbilactum is the main drug we used for this purpose.

Key words: ineurosurgery, intracranial pressure, brain edema, intensive therapy.