

COMPLICATIONS OF INTENSIVE THERAPY AT THE PATIENTS OF BEING IN CRITICAL STATES

V.I. Chernij, T.P. Kabanko, V.S. Balatsko, U.N. Agafonov

Summary. The analysis of complications of infusion therapy at the patients of being in the critical states is conducted in the article. The reasons of complications of infusion therapy are selected. Crystalloids, colloids, are widely used in the program of infusion therapy (synthetic and natural). They differ by electrolyte composition, colloid-osmotic pressure. Basic arguments in behalf on the choice of one or another solution must be based on correct interpretation of different indexes characterized this clinical situation and comparable with her.

Key words: reasons, complications, infusion therapy, critical states.