

HUMAN PAPILOMAVIRUS INFECTION: PERSPECTIVE OF VIROLOGIST

I. V. Dziublyk, O. V. Kovaliuk

Summary. The article discusses medical and social aspects of human papillomavirus infection and shows the recent data about classification, structure and features of the virus reproductive process and pathogenesis. Authors stated main clinical implications of human papillomavirus in context of multidisciplinary approach. Presented basic methods of laboratory diagnostics, special features of epidemiology and specific preventive measures.

Key words: human papillomavirus, papillomavirus infection, reproduction, laboratory diagnostics, specific preventive measures.