

REOSORBILAKT PROGRAM CONSERVATIVE THERAPY OF PANCREATIC NECROSIS

A. V. Kapshitar

Summary. According to the report all 39 patients with pancreatonecrosis got the standart intensive conservative therapy in the intensive therapy room. In the main group were included 21 (53,8 %) opatients, which additionally got an infusion medicine with polyfunctional action Rheosorbilact. The comparative group consisted of 18 (46,2 %) patients, which didn't get the mentioned medicine. In the issue of medical treatment, in the main group haemodynamics and microregulation were stabilized for 10 hours faster, the laboratory biochemical rates of 75,4 % of patients and koagulograma were stabilized faster. No complications and reactions were noticed. The medial term of medical treatment in the intensive therapy room was shortened from 13 to 7,2 bed/day. 2 patients have died of sepsis after the operation.

Keywords: pancreatonecrosis, conservative therapy, Rheosorbilact, operation.