

EFFICACY AND SAFETY OF ANTIBACTERIAL THERAPY IN CASES OF NON-SEVERE COMMUNITY-ACQUIRED PNEUMONIA, REQUIRING NO HOSPITALISATION

*O. Ya. Dzyublyk, O. O. Mukhin, R. E. Sukhin,
T. M. Engalycheva*

Summary

The results of conducted study confirmed that monotherapy using aminopenicillin (amoxicillin) or macrolide (clarithromycin) in cases of non-severe community-acquired pneumonia without concomitant diseases is highly effective and safe.